VOTES.—Votes for State and County officers for this County can be had by calling at this office. The Town Committees should see that their towns are supplied.

We shall print votes for other Counties as they may be ordered.

The Selectmen of Berlin have appointed S. S. BEARD a Special Constable, with especial reference to the preservation of good order on the Berlin side of the Arch Bridge.

AND STILL THEY COME.—The State Committee of the Democratic Convention held here on the 24th of July, have appeared once more upon the stage, and announce that they have found three men who are willing to receive such sop, in the way of votes, as may be thrown to them (or for them) by the hard-shell Democrats of the State. For the benefit of the curious we give the names on this self-sacrificing ticket: Governor—Benjamin H. Smalley of Swanton; Lieutenant Governor—Erasmus Plimpton of Wardsboro; Treasurer—George Washburn of Springfield.

The Burlington Times says of these nominations:

"Two of the candidates above named are rumored to be thorough 'peace party' men, and have but little sympathy with the present struggle for the perpetuity of the Union. The votes they will poll will be few and scattering as five-sixths of the loyal Democracy of Vermont, from all we can learn, will unquestionably vote, on Tuesday next, for the People's Candidate for Governor, Frederick Holbrook of Brattleboro."

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION IN MASSACHUSETTS.—The Republican State Committee in Massachusetts, have called a State Convention at Worcester, October 1. The Call is addressed

To all citizens of the commonwealth who are in favor of the Union, for the support of the Government and for a vigorous prosecution of the war, who are determined in good faith and without reservation to support the constituted authorities in all attempts to restore the sway of the Constitution as it were to every portion of the Country.

Hon. Joseph Holt of Kentucky, who is at the Tremont House, Boston, was serenaded Tuesday evening. A crowd of several thousand people were assembled. Mr. Holt was introduced by Mr. Everett and made a brief and eloquent speech.

VERMONT PRISONERS AT RICHMOND.—Capt. Drew of the Burlington company in a letter to the Free Press gives the following as the names of the prisoners from the Vermont Second at Richmond:

Private H. L. Breckenreed, W. M. Gifford, Co. B; Corporal R. O. Fife, Private A. L. Graves, P. A. Streeter, J. R. Wheeler, Co. C; Private J. Murray, D. K. Stickney, P. F. Flaherty, J. Gowan, Co. D; Captain J. T. Drew, Private Henry P. Conroy, Benj. Martin, J. Redmond, Co. G; Alonzo Parris, Co. H; G. H. Lewis, Co. J; E. Grinnell, Co. K.

There are also two from Co. C, wounded, whose names I do not know.

The above list doesn't include Taylor of the Capital Guards who is also a prisoner there.

Capt. Drew is anxious for an exchange of prisoners, and intimates that President Lincoln had better hurry that business up.

GEORGE PRENTISS, son of J. A. Prentiss, Esq., of this village, died of diphtheria, at his father's house, this morning, at nine o'clock. He was a beautiful little child of four years of age, very attractive and winning in all his ways, and remarkably lovely and promising. The Providence is a sad one, and especially so to his afflicted parents, to whom, with others of their numerous friends, we tender a most cordial sympathy. We trust that our community is not to suffer further under the ravages of this virulent disease.

The Burlington Times learns that sixty-three good men have already enlisted at the recruiting office in Richmond.

COLONELCY OF THE FIFTH REGIMENT.—The Burlington Times says that Capt. Henry A. Smalley has accepted the Colonelcy of the Fifth Regiment, and has been detached from the regular service for that purpose. He is a son of Judge Smalley.

Reported Battle in Western Virginia, and Defeat of the Federal Forces.

The following telegram has a bad look, but we have yet hope that it is not wholly true: Cincinnati, Aug. 27. We learn from Kanawha that Col. Tyler's forces at Summersville were surrounded and badly defeated by the Rebels under Gen. Floyd early yesterday morning. We have received no particulars yet.

POWDER MILLS BLOWN UP.—Four powder mills at New Durham, N. H., were blown up Tuesday afternoon. The mills had a large contract to fill for the Government.

FIRE IN UNDERHILL.—The Wooden Ware manufactory of Hiram Forbush, on Stevens' Brook, in Underhill, took fire August 3d, and was entirely consumed, together with a large stock of ware on hand. Loss $3,000; insured for $650.—Free Press.

RECRUITING FOR THE U. S. ARMY goes on actively here considering the superior inducements offered by the State to recruits. Capt. McIntosh has sent off one squad and was drilling another squad of twenty-four on College Street this morning.—Idid.

The N. Y. Commercial says that a member of Co. A, of the 2d Vermont died in Philadelphia last week, while on his way home on sick leave. His name was not mentioned.

The explosion in the Adams' Express Company car at Pittsburgh, is supposed to have been caused by a box of percussion primers for cannon, addressed to Gen. Fremont at St. Louis.

Correspondence of the Freeman—From the Third Vermont Regiment.

CAMP, LYON, at Chain Bridge, August 23, 1861.

EDITOR FREEMAN:—The Third Vermont Regiment has been greatly honored, and in this wise: On Wednesday last, at three o'clock P. M., our Brigade was paraded under command of our much-thought-of General, having had intimations of a review by Gen. McClellan. We waited very patiently for the arrival of the Hope of his Country, as he is called, little anticipating that there were to be those present, beside of whom he would be scarcely perceptible. First arrived an open carriage, driven by a very sedate, very genteel, and very black specimen of the present bone of contention. On the back seat sat a tall man with black hair and large nose. By his side sat a fat man with a large nose. Next came carriages with short, lean, tall, fat and medium men with large noses. While we were guessing who they could be, all three of our batteries opened fire, and "Old Virginia shore" echoed back the sound of the salute to the President of the United States. I had a front view, a side view, and a back view of the notables, including "Old Abe," Seward, Chase, Cameron, etc., etc., and saw nothing remarkable save the peculiarity I before mentioned. Almost every one had a very large nasal organ, and while we stood at "Attention," I could but muse upon the remarkableness of the fact, and I began to philosophize. I heard that the nose was the sink of the brain. Necessarily a large brain must have a large nose, as a large house must have a large sink, and I could but think that if the outside diagnoses were indications, they all must have good brains.

When marching in review, and the Third Vermont passed, the President asked, "What Regiment is that?" No one knowing, Gen. McClellan, when he saw it, asked of our General the same question, and was modestly answered by him—"Formerly mine, sir—the Third Vermont." He turned and gave directions that the President should be informed. To be so particularly noticed by him we so much love and respect, is an honor, indeed, and I venture to say that not a soldier but inwardly resolved the Vermont Third should nobly sustain the good name it had gained. McClellan has that peculiar faculty of grasping all that the eye covers, but few men possess. If there is anything in physiognomy, his head is capable of containing much; and he is shrewd, too. His eye is observation and comprehension, his mouth determination and discipline, and his whole face command and strategy. With such a man to lead, and such men as are now hovering along the Potomac to follow, victory is certain.

There is a cloud—at first it was no larger than a man's hand—in the North. That cloud is increasing, sweeping onward toward the South, heaving upward and outward for a moment until it hovers for a moment along the Potomac, ready to burst in angry torrents upon the ranks of rebellion; ranks already shattered by dissensions gotten up by ambitious leaders, by disease engendered by the want of a proper commissariat, by the dissatisfaction of those who have become tired of the reign of terror under which they live, by reaction of feeling in those cheated and deceived by unprincipled leaders, by an upgrowing Union sentiment, consequent upon the whole, that must ultimately crown our arms with victory, and those of traitors with defeat and ruin.

One company from our Regiment went out to-day, accompanied by a detachment from each of the other Regiments in our brigade, and a company of Cavalry. They discovered about five hundred of the enemy, fired upon them, received their fire, and fell back, the cavalry taking to the woods. The result of the whole will probably be a newspaper paragraph, maybe a telegram. These little matters of camp life and every day experience must be the amount of information I can send, for the reasons: firstly, we are not allowed to tell what we know; secondly, we don't know anything to tell, getting about all of our news from the papers published in Washington and the North. And this is wise, for human nature here is pretty much the same as in Vermont, and any news of any kind flies through the brigade like wildfire—and it loses nothing in the journey. We are candidly of the opinion here, however, that the sudden rise of the Potomac saved us, and through us, Washington, from an attack; and certainly it would seem that there is One whose Hand is stretched forth in mercy to preserve our poor, distracted country from the riot and ruin plotted against her by unprincipled men, who is over us when the arm of flesh is weak, who shelters us when no other shelter intervenes, and will eventually, using us as unworthy instruments, crush out the last vestige of unholy opposition to our country and her laws.

The Charleston Courier publishes a letter from Richmond, written on the 14th inst., from which we make the following extract:

"There is a great deal of sickness in our army it is said at Charlottesville and Culpeper there are over 3,000 under the care of physicians. A great many have been brought sick to this city, and at Norfolk and Yorktown there is more disease, according to the numbers, even than about us. The measles has swept and is sweeping through every division of the army, and the exposure to which the men are subjected in their tent life, makes it in its sequence a formidable disease. Then this is our Fall season, and the diseases incident to the climate at this period prevail to some extent, but, in my judgment, the cause of all this sickness lies further back than this; it is to be found in a defective and imperfect system of hygiene."

BERLIN.—At a meeting of the Freeman of Berlin, yesterday, Samuel Jones, Esq., was nominated for Representative to the General Assembly. Moses Strong, J. N. Perrin, J. W. Wheelock, Zenas C. Dewey, T. C. Whipple, A. K. Warren and Josiah Benjamin received the nomination for Justices of the Peace.

A GOOD RECOMMENDATION.—Miss Dix, the nurse-in-chief of the Federal army, recommends all persons having fruit orchards or vegetable gardens to cause dried fruit and vegetables to be prepared and stored for the benefit of the troops in autumn and winter, that a wholesome addition may be made to the army rations, and health preserved by suitable diet.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE FREEMAN.

6 O'CLOCK, A. M.

New York, August 27. Special dispatches from Washington state that the city is quiet. Newly arrived troops find accommodations and food. There was an alarm last night at Chain Bridge, and the troops turned out in force. The alarm proved false.

A Washington special dispatch to the Post states that a letter from Tennessee says 25,000 Rebels are under arms in that State, in the La Grange District. All but twenty-four of the inhabitants have enlisted in the Rebel army.

The pickets of Beauregard's army are nearer Arlington Heights than ever, but this is not believed to indicate an attack.

It is reported that the English and French fleets on our coasts are intended to serve at Vera Cruz.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., August 27. An infernal machine placed on board Adams' Express car exploded on its arrival at the depot at one o'clock this afternoon, killing two employees one of whom is named McLaughlin, and wounding in the leg a man named Bachelor.

The body of Gen. Lyon arrived at St. Louis the night of the 26th, and was escorted from the depot by two companies of soldiers. Suitable honors were to be paid to the remains the next day.

MATTERS IN VIRGINIA.—The Confederates in Fairfax County, Virginia, are picking up young and old, and forcing them into the army.

One day last week two parties of rebel cavalry had a brush, each mistaking the other for the "Yankees," and after both were whipped they made tracks toward Manassas.

The crops are entirely destroyed, and their horses fed upon the grain and corn without any regard for economy, more being wasted than is eaten. Corn is trampled and broken down, shocks of grain scattered about the fields, hogs rooting and upturning potatoe fields, and everything going to destruction.

FROM CALIFORNIA.—Fort Kearney, Aug. 26. The Pony Express, with San Francisco dates of the 17th, has arrived. The markets are about the same as last reported. There is greater firmness in the provision market.

Victoria dates of the 7th have been received. On the 6th the steamer Caribee blew up a short distance above the rapids on the Fraser river. The captain and six others were killed. Many of the passengers are missing. The news from Nez Perce mines is unfavorable.

The Indians won't permit the miners to occupy some of the land. Trouble is feared.

Nine companies of infantry, for service on the plains, have reported to Gen. Sumner; also 1500 cavalry. Nearly all have been accepted.

In reference to the movement of Gen. Johnston, late in command of the Pacific division, the Morning Call says that Johnston started from Los Angeles with a company, ostensibly for Texas. After leaving, a disagreement occurred and they divided. Johnston returned to San Francisco and took passage for the East on a steamer. A portion of the original party, under command of the President of Los Angeles and a well-known citizen of California, proceeded into New Mexico.

The weather in England is again unsettled, there having been considerable rain in some parts.

The London Times city article again expatiates on the financial difficulties accumulating against the American Government, and says that the most earnest wish of the friends of America must be that the difficulties thus in sight may accumulate with sufficient rapidity to bring the North and South to reason.

INDIA AND CHINA.

The total exports of tea to America show a decrease of over 5,000,000 pounds this year.

Calcutta letters say the cotton question is the great topic of the day there, and every effort was being made to encourage an increased production. The Governor General of Bengal had recommended the establishment of government factories for buying and cleaning cotton on the Chittagong hills, but he preferred leaving such matters to private enterprise, aided by land grants, &c. Freighters were firm.

The following foreign news is by steamships City of Washington and Teutonia: European political news unimportant. The English daily papers were engrossed with the American question.

The London Globe denies by authority that Admiral Milne had reported the blockade of the Southern ports ineffective, and says no general report on the subject has been officially received.

The Times publishes another letter from Mr. Russell, generally discouraging for the North. Catharine Hayes, the vocalist, is dead.

The special agents of the Cotton Supply Association had reached Egypt. They were to have an interview with the Viceroy on the subject of cotton cultivation.

The harvest was making great progress. The rain, however, was again falling when the steamer left Liverpool.

The relations between Austria and Hungary are daily more alarming. The Upper House of the Hungarian Diet had adopted by acclamation M. Dank's address. The Emperor would receive the Presidents of both Houses on the 14th.

D. B. DAVENPORT, recruiting officer at Roxbury, has already enlisted over eighty men, and expects to have his Company full in a few days.

It is understood that at the request of Gen. McClellan to-day the President has directed a commission to issue to Brigadier General Sickles; thus conferring on him that rank.

England will probably recognize the Southern Confederacy.

Secession Journals in Trouble.

Reason not to be Tolerated.

Looking after a Flag of Truce

New York, August 28.

A Washington dispatch to the Tribune says that advices from Mr. Adams our Minister in England indicate a speedy recognition of the Southern Confederacy by the British Government. A dispatch from Quebec says that the ship Simons, of St. Johns, N. B., flies a Secession flag in that port. Anderson, who was arrested yesterday, confesses having contributed editorials to the Day Book, News, and Journal of Commerce. He also implicates Ben Wood and Isaiah Rynders in correspondence with the Rebels. The evening mail and express train leaving here to-day carries detective officers to seize all secession newspapers and to arrest all persons having them. It is said that when the District Attorney returns from Washington, effective measures will be taken to suppress all treasonable publications.

FORTRESS MONROE, August 27.

Another flag of truce came from Norfolk this morning to inquire after that which came yesterday, and was detained until 4 o'clock this afternoon. Our Naval expedition having doubtless reached its destination, no further detention of the flag of truce will be necessary.

Two ladies from Norfolk say that the Rebels have lately assembled in large forces near Sewall's Point in anticipation of an attack from Old Point.

Naval Expedition from Fortress Monroe.

Fortress Monroe, Aug. 26.—The much talked of expedition from Old Point has sailed under the command of Gen. Butler. It consisted of the frigates Minnesota and Wabash, the sloop of war Pawnee, the gun boats Monticello and Harriet Lane, the steamers Adelaide and Geo. Peabody, and the propellers Fanny and Adriatic, with a large number of schooners, barges, &c. The Quaker City will follow in a few hours. The vessels carried over 100 guns and about 4000 men. Several powerful gun boats remain at Old Point and Newport News.

A brilliant achievement is expected from Gen. Butler, and Com. Stringham.

Col. Max Weber's and Hawkin's Zouaves take part in the expedition.

All are not Traitors.

Flag officer Montgomery, commanding the Pacific squadron, in writing to the Secretary of the Navy relative to the expiration of the two years service of officers and men says: "For my own part I neither expect or desire a day's respite from active employment during the continuance of our present struggle for the maintenance of our national honor and the integrity of the Union. It rests with the Department to determine my sphere of duty either on this or the other side of the continent."

From Missouri.

St. Louis, Aug. 27.—Gen. Pope has confirmation from North Eastern Missouri that Martin Green instead of threatening to attack Kirksville and Athens as heretofore reported is fast moving towards the Missouri River. Gen. Harburt is pursuing him from Kirksville and Col. Moore from Athens. Green's force is estimated at 1200 and is supposed to be now in the lower part of Monroe County, moving southward and will probably attempt to cross in Galloway or Boone Counties. This will rid North Eastern Missouri of his presence and restore quiet to that section of the State.

GROWLS FROM THE SOUTH.—As evidence that all is not fair weather in the hopes and councils of the Southern Rebels, take the following facts, all from papers of the bogus Confederacy:

Destruction of the Army.

R. W. Barnwell, Jr., of South Carolina, in a letter from Charlottesville, Virginia, dated August 12, to the President of the Young Men's Christian Association of Charleston, thanking him for contributions of hospital stores, remarks:

"Our weekly report, which will appear in 3 day or so in the Charleston papers, will show how great is the necessity for these supplies, and let me say to you what I cannot in the papers—they are not half enough to meet the demand. The destitution of our army in clothing and food is terrible; many applications are made to us by well men who wish to escape sickness by an extra pair of drawers, or socks, or undershirt, a package of arrowroot, or jar of pickles."

"It will require every nerve to be strained by you at home and ourselves here to meet the exigencies of the Fall and Winter should the war last so long."
